

TRAVEL ADVISORY FOR INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS, VISITING SCHOLARS & EMPLOYEES

May 9, 2005

If you are planning to travel outside the U.S. during summer break, we urge you to read this travel advisory so that you will not have serious problems during your trip and when you return to the U.S.

The topics addressed in this advisory include:

- Departure Procedures for Individuals who are Subject to Special Registration
- Important Reminder about your Passport
- Things to Consider about Renewing your U.S. Visa
- Advice about Travel Inside the U.S. and Re-entry to the U.S.

Departure Procedures for Individuals who are Subject to Special Registration

Individuals who are subject to Special Registration must notify Immigration & Customs Enforcement (ICE) when they leave the U.S. and may only leave through designated ports. Any such individuals who do not follow these special departure procedures may be denied re-admission to the U.S. at a later date.

www.ice.gov/graphics/specialregistration/BLISTOFP.pdf

If you are not sure if you are subject to Special Registration, please consult www.ice.gov/graphics/specialregistration/archive.htm

Important Reminder about Your Passport

As you know, your passport must be valid at all times while you are in the U.S. and traveling outside the U.S. In addition, your passport must have at least SIX MONTHS' validity remaining when you enter the U.S. The only exception to this requirement is for individuals from one of the countries listed at the end of this section.

Please check the expiration date on your passport and calculate how many months you will have left on the day you plan to enter the U.S. If you will have fewer than six months left and are not from one of the countries listed below, you should renew your passport before you return to the U.S. If you don't renew your passport, you will most likely be denied entry to the U.S.

Things to Consider about Renewing Your U.S. Visa

If you are planning to renew your U.S. visa during summer break, you should consider whether or not you will have sufficient time to renew it. Due to background checks, mandatory visa interviews and increased scrutiny of individuals studying or doing research in “sensitive fields,” you should be prepared for the possibility of delays in the processing of your visa application.

If your field of study or research is on the Technology Alert List (available at the links below), you should obtain a letter from your professor explaining in detail the nature of your studies or research. This letter should be written in simple language so it can be easily understood by non-specialists.

If you are applying for an F-1 or J-1 visa for the first time, you may have to pay the new SEVIS fee. To find out if you must pay the SEVIS fee, please read “The New SEVIS Fee” handout for F-1 students (available at <http://wings.buffalo.edu/intlservices/sevisfee.pdf>) and for J-1 Exchange Visitors (available at <http://wings.buffalo.edu/intlservices/SEVISFee2.pdf>).
