

TRAVEL ADVISORY FOR INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS, VISITING SCHOLARS & EMPLOYEES

April 28, 2007

If you are planning to travel outside the U.S. this summer, please read this travel advisory so that you will be less likely to have problems during your trip and when you return to the U.S.

The topics addressed in this advisory include:

- Departure Procedures for Individuals who are Subject to Special Registration
- Bringing Money into and Taking Money outside the U.S.
- Advice about Travel inside the U.S. and Re-entry to the U.S.
- Important Reminder about your Passport
- Things to Consider about Renewing your U.S. Visa

Departure Procedures for Individuals who are Subject to Special Registration

Individuals who are subject to Special Registration must notify Immigration & Customs Enforcement (ICE) when they leave the U.S. and may only leave through designated ports. In determining if you are subject to Special Registration, ask yourself these questions:

- Do I have an FIN number on my I-94 card?
- Was I ever required to Special Register when I entered the U.S.?
- Was I ever required to report to the local USCIS office for Special Registration?

If you answered “yes” to any of these questions, then you are subject to Special Registration departure procedures, which means that you must notify Immigration & Customs Enforcement (ICE) when you leave the U.S. and may only leave through designated ports. If you don't, you may be denied re-admission to the U.S. at a later date.

A list of designated ports can be found at:

<http://www.ice.gov/doclib/pi/specialregistration/WalkawayMaterial.pdf> (pages 7-26)

For further information about Special Registration, please consult:

Bringing Money into and Taking Money outside the U.S.

If you plan to take money outside the U.S. or bring money into the U.S., please note the following from the Customs & Border Protection website:

“Travelers leaving or entering the U.S. are required to report monetary instruments (i.e. currency or checks) valued at $10,000 or more on a "Report of International Transportation of Currency or Monetary Instruments" form FinCEN 105” (available at http://www.fincen.gov/fin105_cmir.pdf or from a CBP officer).

“Failure to declare currency in amounts of over $10,000 can result in its seizure.”

Unfortunately, international students in the U.S. (and at UB!) have had large sums of money seized at the U.S. border so please pay attention to the following:

- 1) Do not assume that, because you are traveling with a group of people, you can multiply $10,000 by the number of people in your group and bring that amount of money. The border officer will try to determine who the money really belongs to. If s/he determines it belongs to one person, s/he will add up the amount and, if it exceeds $10,000, seize it.
- 2) Never make a false statement to the border officer about the money. The penalty for making false statements to border officers is very severe.

Advice about Travel Inside the U.S. and Re-Entry to the U.S.

If you will travel inside or outside the U.S. during winter break, you must carry the following documents with you.

- 1) Valid passport

In addition, you will need to carry the following:

Please note: Never make a false statement to a border officer. The penalties for doing so are extremely severe.

Important Reminder about Your Passport

As you know, your passport must be valid at all times while you are in the U.S. and traveling outside the U.S. In addition, your passport must have at least SIX MONTHS' validity remaining when you enter the U.S. The only exception to this requirement is for individuals from one of the countries listed at the end of this section.

Please check the expiration date on your passport and calculate how many months you will have left on the day you plan to enter the U.S. If you will have fewer than six months left and are not from one of the countries listed below, you should renew your passport before you return to the U.S. If you don't renew your passport, you will most likely be denied entry to the U.S.

Things to Consider about Renewing Your U.S. Visa

If you are planning to renew your U.S. visa during summer break, we recommend that you read “Applying for a Non-Immigrant U.S. Visa” at <http://wings.buffalo.edu/intlservices/visa2.html>.

You should also consider whether or not you will have sufficient time to renew your U.S. visa during summer break. Due to background checks, mandatory visa interviews and scrutiny of individuals studying or doing research in “sensitive fields,” you may encounter delays in the processing of your visa application.

If your field of study or research is on the Technology Alert List (available at the links below), you should obtain a letter from your professor explaining in detail the nature of your studies or research. This letter should be written in simple language so it can be easily understood by non-specialists.
