4/95; Rev. 11/99; 5/02; 2/04, 8/06, 2/08, 1/09

All residents who start a University at Buffalo (“UB”) sponsored residency training program at the PGY 1 level are required to attend the UB GME Incoming Residents Week (IRW) Orientation which precedes the beginning of the first academic module. Typically, the PGY I residency program training commences immediately following IRW and concludes on June 30th of the following year.

Residents who start a University at Buffalo (“UB”) sponsored residency training program at the PGY 2 level or above (including fellows) typically begin their residency training program on July 1st and terminate on June 30th . The training year is equivalent to 52 weeks. These residents and fellows are required to attend a mandatory UB GME orientation prior to the start of training, typically on July 1st.

Residents at all levels who, with prior knowledge and approval of the Program Director and UB Office of Graduate Medical Education, are unable to attend the appropriate UB GME Orientation as described above may be scheduled for an alternate UB GME Orientation. Under no circumstance may a resident or fellow begin a UB sponsored residency training program prior to attending a UB GME Orientation and meeting all Pre-Employment Conditions as specified in the Residency Employment Agreement or as outlined by the Program.
