

Professionalism in Medicine

Ethics Master Session

Thursday, January 24, 2008

5:00-7:30 pm

Butler Auditorium

Farber Hall, UB School of Medicine

Residents arriving after 5:30 will NOT Receive credit

Food will be served 5:00-5:30

Learning Objectives

- Introduce concepts of professionalism in clinical practice
- Discuss how we learn, teach and evaluate professionalism in training
- Practice questioning techniques to improve awareness of professional behavior
- Discuss the influence of pharmaceutical companies on research and prescribing habits

Speakers

Dr. Steven Miles, an ethicist from the Center for Bioethics, Department of Medicine, University of Minnesota

Dr. Andrew Symons, Vice-Chair for Predoctoral Education in UB's Department of Family Medicine

The third of four Core Curriculum Master Sessions for this academic year sponsored by the UB Graduate Medical and Dental Education Program

Refreshments Provided - RSVP Required
Please respond to your Program Coordinator by Friday, January 11, 2008

so your program can register you via the GME website by Tuesday, January 15, 2008